grandchildren thrive upon it:
"Half an ounce of wheaten flour and an equal quantity of mait flour; seven grains and a quarter of bicarbonate of potash and one ounces of cow's milk are then to be added, and the whole put on a gentle fire; when the mixture begins to thicken it is removed from the fire, stirred during five minutes, heated and stirred again till it becomes fluid, and finally made to boil. After the separation of the bran by asieve it is ready for use. By boiling it for a few minutes it loses all tase of the four.'
